Re: Marcus Conte v. The Brooklyn Hospital Center [TBHC]
NYS DHR Case No. 10207504

Dear Division,

Defendant has argued racism is NOT widespread at their establishment, and that employee Joshua Wright acted independently. That said - you cannot separate Mr. Wright from his employer. They are one unit. Enclosed is DIRECT evidence of widespread radicalization at the Hospital. The following evidence makes clear that Joshua Wright is not a lone wolf, but the whole place may be crawling with anti-WHITE separatists.

At or around June 5, 2020 an event for White Coats for Black Lives was promoted by Brooklyn Hospital on their Facebook page. It's unclear how many people participated. Similar to Black Lives Matter, White Coats for Black Lives promotes far-left racist propaganda. The following are excerpts from their website, along with social media excerpts and photos that prove the point:

White Supremacy

Whiteness is an invented political tool created through violence in the service of establishing domination, maintaining control, and obtaining property and capital. A claim to whiteness has been historically used as a violent means for stealing lives, autonomy, and economic, political, and social power. Tools of whiteness are varied and numerous, including but not limited to slavery, colonialism, imperialism, capitalism, individualism, and professionalism. (Here, professionalism refers to social norms created in work settings to largely police Black people.)

White supremacy may be defined as "a political, economic and cultural system in which whites overwhelmingly control power and material resources, conscious and unconscious ideas of white superiority and entitlement are widespread, and relations of white dominance and non-white subordination are daily reenacted across a broad array of institutions and social settings."⁵ It permeates every dominant American institution, including healthcare. Further, radical Black and brown activists have long articulated white supremacy as a global, colonialist project to further subjugate communities of color, and called for international solidarity (e.g. solidarity of Third World women, resistance against South African and Israeli Apartheid).

Racism, capitalism, and white supremacy are interdependent systems which lead to the particular dehumanization, exploitation, and murder of Black people. This means that addressing racism alone will not provide liberation for all Black people. The destruction of racial hierarchy, created for the purpose of exploitation, whiteness, and white supremacy, requires dismantling racial capitalism altogether.
